Budget Committee Recommendations For Annual Meeting Announced

The Budget Committee completed a review of the proposed 1981 municipal budget at their meeting Wednesday evening, Feb. 11. The Committee met four evenings, Jan. 28, Feb. 3, Feb. 4, and Feb. 11, with between 15 and 25 citizens attending the various meetings.

The initial proposed municipal budget totaled $451,145 and after a thorough review of all items, the Committee voted to recommend a total budget of $415,768 or $35,377 less than requested (a reduction of 7.8%).

With the recommended cuts of $35,377 and using projected costs for education and the county tax, the 1981 tax rate is estimated to remain the same as in 1980 or possibly show a slight decrease.

In the Municipal Building account, the Committee voted to recommend $8,273 for the Town Office; $5,335 for the Fire Station, as opposed to the $6,335 requested, and $5,000 for the Town Garage against the $7,120 requested.

The Committee voted to recommend $61,162 for General Government against an original figure of $61,462.

In Protection, $26,000 was recommended for the Police Department ($26,900 was requested); $22,321 for the Fire Department ($25,535 was requested); $21,000 for hydrant rental; $11,500 for street lights, and $300 for CEP.

In the Health/Welfare/Sanitation category, the Committee voted to recommend $1,169 for Androscoggon Home Health; $2,338 for Tri-County Mental Health; $395 for Oxford County Community Services; $200 for Tri County Family Planning; $710 for Western Maine Transportation; $2,100 for Western Older Citizens Council ($700 less than requested); $6,500 for General Assistance; $750 for Plumbing Inspection/Code Enforcement; $7,900 for the landfill; $4,000 for the Ambulance Service ($2,715 less than the original budget figure).

In the Leisure Services category, $5,000 was recommended for the Library Association; $400, Memor-

Superintendent's Newsletter

Dr. Wayne F. Gersen

After months of deliberation by the finance committee and school district administrators and supervisors, the Board of Directors of S. A. D. #44 will be asked to approve a budget of $2,689,437 for the next fiscal year. This is a modest increase of 4.79% over last year's budget, and will result in a net decrease of 1.56% in property tax revenues required by the school district for the fiscal year—which runs from July 1, 1981, to June 30, 1982. The modest budget increase reflects an effort by the Board and its administrators to keep expenditures low, while the property tax decrease is largely the result of a surplus from the current fiscal year.

Keeping the Costs Down:
In order to keep the budget increase minimal, two major changes will be made: Locke Mills Elementary School will be closed; and, the bus routes will be consolidated, with elementary students.

Public Shows Interest in Affairs of Bethel Water District Tuesday Night

The Bethel Water District held a public hearing on Tuesday night, Feb. 17, at the Bethel Savings Bank to receive comments and questions on its proposed rate increase of 25%. Twenty-one persons attended the hearing, the largest number of people to show interest in Water District activities in recent years. The public attendance represented a number of questions over how the District operated, reasons for increasing rates at this time and sectional concerns from within the area served by the District.

Questions and citizen comments ranged from general opposition to the rate increase to how the fire protection charges were decided; details on planned District construction; possession of long range improvement plans; benefits received by tax exempt organizations within the fire protection service area; water service charges within the Bethel Fire Station; the general management scheme of the District and its impact on water rates; and, lastly, the impact of lowering the minimum rate consumption requirements on higher volume users.

From the point of view of the water District trustees and superintendent, the rate increase was explained as an anticipated two year adjustment in rates to account for increases in operating costs plus the cost of annual capital improvements. The District's accountant, Sturges Butler, explained that in looking over the 1979 rate increase report it was evident that another increase would be required in 1981, as will another be required in 1983, to pay for operations and capital improvements.

Tuesday night's hearing lasted three and one-half hours with most of the time, nearly two hours, spent on discussing the District's plan to replace old water main sections with eight inch pipe this

Swedish Student 'Traveled Furthest'

In perhaps the only bright spot in this year's winter carnival Stefan Bessman who traveled to Sunday River via Camden, Maine, from Sweden won this year's "Who Traveled Furthest" contest. Neal Brown, produce manager and assistant store manager of the Bethel IGA Store awarded Stefan his prize Tuesday afternoon. The warm weather seemed more like the climate which produced the fruit won by Bessman than winter vacation weather usually experienced.

High temperatures and lack of snow forced cancellation of Wednesday and Thursday planned ski events at Sunday River and Mt. Abram.

SOLAR FACTS

by Robert E. Lewis

Passive Heating Offers Advantages, Differences

There are many advantages in using passive solar energy to heat our homes and commercial buildings. Any disadvantages are few and minor, and more aptly term "differences" from conventional heating methods.

The most obvious advantage of a passive solar heating system is its capacity to save fuel. It is currently estimated that at least 80% of the average home's heating requirements can be met by a passive solar energy system. As fuel costs continue to escalate, the prospect of reducing fuel consumption by relying on the sun's energy becomes highly attractive.

In addition, passive heating systems are inexpensive to build. When included in the original design and construction of a building, a passive system adds surprisingly little to the cost. Existing buildings are also adaptable to passive design. In fact, the cost of a retrofit passive system is often offset by the increase in the building's market value.

Perhaps the greatest attraction of a passive heating system is its simplicity. Since most passive systems are free of mechanical equipment, there are no fans, pumps, compressors, ducts or moving parts to break down. And because they use common construction materials—such as masonry, glass, brick, etc.—passive systems usually have long, maintenance-free lives.

Finally, passive solar systems offer a great degree of architectural flexibility. A common misconception is that solar homes must, by necessity, be futuristic-looking.

While solar dwellings are the homes of the future by virtue of the way they are heated (and in some cases cooled), designs by some of the leading homebuilders have as much appeal to the traditional as to the contemporary eye. In fact, passive systems are being installed around the country in Cape Cod, colonial and ranch-style homes without any loss of architectural integrity.

But passive heating systems still remain different from conventional heating methods. First, temperature control is not as easy in solar buildings as in structures with conventional heating systems. Since a passive system is an integral part of the structure, space temperature fluctuations can result from changes in the temperature of the system's storage mass. But there are relatively simple solutions to these situations.

For residential applications, temperature control can be achieved through operable windows, shading devices, venting and back-up heating systems. In large scale applications, the solution to control lies in choosing a back-up system that can respond effectively to the comfort requirements of its occupants.

In addition, the temperature in a passive solar area is usually lower than that of a conventionally heated one. While this slightly lower temperature range requires some attitude adjustment on the part of solar users, many people think solar-heated buildings are actually more comfortable than conventional types.

As Americans look for ways to conserve energy, more and more are turning to passive solar heating systems. While passive heating offers many advantages, living in a passive solar home will definitely be different. Many knowledgeable people say it will be better.

For a description of some of the differences between passive and conventional heating methods, send a stamp, self-addressed envelope to: Robert E. Lewis, (#6-A) P. O. Box 2680, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Upton

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

A S. A. D. #44 bus is left in Upton for the transportation of Upton and some of the Newry students. Mr. Aron, a former bus driver here, makes the two trips daily.

Our snow stayed briefly as we had unseasonably warm temperatures and heavy rain last week. The brown fields are most unattractive.

Frozen culverts again cause much problem with a build up of ice on the road and sand and salt causing ruts and holes.

Sunday River

— Jeannine Fleet, Corres. —

Mrs. Isabelle Rolfe and Mrs. Edie Holt had supper with the David Fleets Sunday night.

Nancy Kimball spent Saturday helping her mother, Mary Morin.

This past week we ended up getting more than two inches of rain. Hope this helps with some of the wells that are real low.

Mrs. Mary Morin and Benton Swan were in Berlin, N. H., shopping on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dennis spent two days in Portland with their daughter and husband, Debbie and Bob Pitre.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of Massachusetts were at their home for a few days.

Ray Clogston spent the week end with his grandmother, Mary Morin.

The children have been enjoying their vacation with some skiing and skating.

— Sent in by Eva Yates: —

A nice February day—but not Washington's birthday—they could not wait until the 22nd. So many of our people today can only see the holidays so as to get out of work. They all want big pay checks but it's easier to sit on a stump and sip coffee while George does the work. I say celebrate the holidays the day they come and not a week or 10 days early. The world would be a lot better if there were not so many so anxious to cheat. Yes, it would. I myself have no use for the cheaters or the lazy. Be honest—pay your bills even if you have to go without some things you want and you will be a lot happier. I have said spring is just around the corner, but now it looks and acts like it had passed the corner.

Verna Swan enjoyed a ripe tomato stew with Eva and Joe Yates for supper Thursday night. Joe and Eva Yates entertained at dinner Sunday: Laura Hutchins, Lucy Billings and Mandy Lyn of East Andover; Preston Cobb of Bryant Pond; Michael and Wynona Wolf of Lewiston.

Laura Hutchins visited her mother and brother Saturday, and attended Grange with them.

Bear River Grange met in regular session with the Worthy Master, Josephine Tripp, in the chair. The meeting was preceded by a delicious pot luck dinner. Notice to all officers, the next meeting is to be Past Masters Afternoon. Each officer is to get a Past Master from some Grange to fill his or her chair. Don't forget and ask if they will furnish a number for the program concerning St. Patrick's Day. This will be March 14 and will be preceded by the usual pot luck dinner.

A lovely sunny spring morning. But a word of advice, don't plant your potatoes just yet—it sure seems like April but Old March comes first so let's wait a bit.

Our sympathy goes out to Dora Ford who lost her husband last week. But remember, Dora, you have a lot of friends to help in any way they can.

No school all this week so the children are more or less happy but it's too bad they have no snow to help keep them busy. Bicycles are out but the favored snow machine has to lay idle.

T.T.A.E.R.S. News

(Tri-Town Ambulance & Emergency Rescue Service)

The sixth grade students at Woodstock Elementary School recently completed a Red Cross First Aid Course taught by Terri Dunham of the Health Education Department at Stephens Memorial Hospital. These students hope to raise $50 for a piece of equipment for the new ambulance by selling pencils. The T.T.A.E.R.S. Board of Directors voted this week to issue Junior Membership Cards to these students for their efforts, and to take the ambulance to school for the students to inspect.

Announcements made by the Board of Directors this week included the following: the Auxiliary will officially organize with election of officers in early April; a special committee will be appointed to study unit housing options; the selectmen of West Paris are drawing up a contract for use of the old fire station to temporarily house the unit; Sue Bell has contacted Gov. Brennan who assured her that R.C.C. funding would continue through July '82; forty people have registered to begin the E.M.T. course to be held at Stephens Memorial Hospital beginning Feb. 26.

The fund drive committee will meet Wednesday, Feb. 25 at 10 a.m. at Dottie Blackadar's to continue organization of the March 22 Fund Drive Week.

At the recent annual meeting 56 persons were accepted as members of T.T.A.E.R.S. for 1981. Any one wishing to become a member of T.T.A.E.R.S. may do so by contacting any officer to obtain an application. There are many ways a member can help the unit which are not at all related to actual emergency treatment or service. Volunteers are needed to help with the many fund raising functions, do typing, take pictures, wash the ambulance, make phone calls, serve on committees and many more too numerous to list. If you have even one spare hour per week why not call a T.T.A.E.R.S. officer and offer to help. YOUR ambulance service needs YOU.

The next board meeting will be March 1 at Cindy Bean's in West Paris, 7 p.m.

NEWS FROM ADULT AND COMMUNITY EDUCATION
— M. S. A. D. #44 —

The Literacy Volunteer Tutor Training Workshop was held on Feb. 10 and 11, at the Bethel Library, with Mrs. Muriel MacKenney, the Literacy Volunteer coordinator at the Maine Youth Center, as instructor. The following attended: Margaret Ring, Laura Playlock, Locke Mills; Mary Buckman, Jean McGuire, Frances Gunther, Mary Angevine and Cathy Newell, Bethel; Nina Wellford, West Bethel, and Carol Emery of Andover. Several of the newly trained tutors will join Edith Hejduk and Thelma Remington, who are currently involved in the Literacy Volunteer program at Telstar Regional High School. Others will work through the SAD #44 Adult Basic Education program with adults who need help with reading. Others in the area who have had Literacy Volunteer training and who would like to be involved in the Telstar Program or Adult Basic Education should contact the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2136. Any adult who would like free, confidential help with reading, math, or life-cooping skills should contact the Adult Education office or Mrs. Newell at home, 824-2089.

A reminder for students: when there is no school during the day at Telstar there will be no evening classes. If your class is held at a location other than Telstar, such as at Gould, the library, or a private home, you should check with your instructor to see if the classes will meet. The reason that classes are not held at Telstar on "snow" days, even if weather conditions improve by evening, is that the night custodians work during the day on the "snow" days. If a storm should come up during the afternoon, any cancellation of Adult Ed. classes will be announced on WRUM and WOXO.

Fire Station School English & Math classes, G. E. D. Preparation, and Adult High School Diploma classes have an open enrollment policy. A student may join the class at any time during the term. Call SAD #44 Adult & Community Education Office, 824-2136, after the February vacation.

C.A.D.E.T. NEWSLETTER

(Wednesday, Feb. 11, C.A.D.E.T. Newsletter)

(Chemical Abuse and Drug Education Team) of Bethel held its second community workshop. Although inclement weather there was a good attendance of concerned citizens, both parents and children. Members of the team involved in the presentation were Dave Walton, Suzanne Taylor, Phyllis Dock, Penny Bean, and Louise Chapman.

The workshop consisted of a presentation on chemical dependency, The Disease. Also shown was part one of the film "I'll Quit Tomorrow."

Following this, the participants broke into small groups for a period of discussion. In sharing thoughts with the entire group the feeling was that chemical dependency, Use and Abuse, is a problem within the schools and the community, and what is C.A.D.E.T.'s role in dealing with the problem.

Members of the team explained that C.A.D.E.T. has been formed from and for concerned citizens to provide an AWARENESS of the concept of Chemical Dependency as a primary disease that is progressive and affects the entire family and community. This awareness education will focus on the definition of Chemical Dependency as a disease, a disease that has unique symptoms and is describable.

Chemical Dependency is:
(1) Primary Disease: Alcoholism and other forms of Chemical Dependency, cannabis, hallucinogens, narcotics, etc.) are not secondary symptoms of something else.

(2) Progressive Disease: This disease gets progressively worse. It renders its victims physically, psychologically, emotionally and spiritually ill.

(3) Chronic Disease: Chronic definition means there is no cure. In chemical dependency relapsing is common. The disease cannot be treated until the substance of choice is removed.

(4) Fatal Disease: This disease can only be arrested. If it is not arrested, the individual will unquestionably die from it.

When talking about Chemical Dependency, all common drugs of abuse are included: alcohol, cannabis, depressants, stimulants, hallucinogens, inhalants and narcotics. All follow the same path from experimenter to the chronically dependent, all are ultimately fatal if not arrested.

Many concepts and terms have been covered in this Newsletter, and in following Newsletters you will be taken step by step over the disease called Chemical Dependency.

Better yet, make sure to attend the next C.A.D.E.T. presentation on March 5. More details will follow in up-coming Newsletters.

Poor Old George Washington and his birthdays. Every year it is celebrated on a different date, so I don't even bother to join in his celebration.

The heavy rain and wind all day Wednesday took all the snow off and some roads are bad in places due to frozen culverts.

Joe Vatcher and Eveline Barrett took Mrs. Vatcher and her daughter to Massachusetts Thursday and returned the same day.

Harlan Abbott and Dick Bean spent the week end at Moosehead, ice fishing, and a beautiful week end it was.

Lena Dean and Doris went to the wedding of Tanya Collette and George Merrill at Paris Hill, Feb. 14, and all attended the lovely reception at Locke Mills Legion Hall.

Elmer Taylor has bought a used school bus and will leave March 1 and go south to Utah. Mrs. Taylor's brother and his family will occupy their house.

Schools are on vacation and the tournaments are on. We will be glued to T.V. this week.

Callers at Lawrence's, Albert Penley Sr., Lloyd Huntley, Joan Poland, Joe Vatcher, Eveline Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card. Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Harta saw some footprints in the new snow,

— Olive Davis, Corres. —

First of all I want to thank the Advertiser-Democrat for their kind greeting and best wishes to me. I surely appreciate it. My many friends who showered me with cards too, I thank them. I had quite a day before my birthday as everyone anticipated rain on the 11th and they were right. It was slippery. Edith Bryant and daughter, June Bryant Cushman, Winthrop, visited me at dinner time and a while afterwards. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barnett, South Paris, called in the afternoon, and then Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks came later. They all brought gifts.

My birthday cake was a delicious custard pie with a candle in the center made by Lettie Brooks. I can't eat sweets and I do eat custards some so it was very appropriate. Other guests during the day were Pete Klachany and Richard Felt.

Recent callers on Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dillingham were Harold so investigated and found that the lightning rods had been removed from one of their sheds.

Doris Lawrence was at Dr. Sokol's Thursday. Marietta Penley accompanied her and they called on Mr. and Mrs. Emery, Mechanic Falls.

Moore of Oxford, Scot Moore, and Linnet of Norway, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Guyette of South Paris, Carmen Hadley, West Paris, Marie Herrick, North Paris, and Mrs. Carole Parise of Rumford.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Dillingham, West Sumner, and Dana Dillingham, West Paris, were Saturday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dillingham.

Mrs. Sheryl Wilbur went with her girls to Telstar Thursday night to watch Theresa play basketball.

Richard Felt has a crew helping salvage windblown timber for various people in town. There was quite a lot of destruction in the woods everywhere.

The rain took off most of the snow that we had the first of the week. With the rain and colder air coming in, the roads were rather dangerous in the forenoon, Wednesday, but melted out before noon, and dried out the black top by Thursday morning.

STATE OF MAINE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Rep. Karen L. Brown, District 63 The DOT Budget and the General Fund

The House Republican Caucus received the encouraging and somewhat surprising news this week that the Appropriations Committee had voted unanimously to reject Governor Brennan's proposal to tap the General Fund for $26 million in aid to the Highway Fund.

Apparently, concern over the fiscal position of the DOT and the state in general may now be shared on both sides of the aisle, which could spell extreme problems for the governor's budget.

Republicans particularly disapprove of any effort to extend revenue to the DOT through the General Fund. Figures presented at the caucus Tuesday indicate that the General Fund is already overburdened and will be in deficit for the 1981-82 biennium unless corrections are made. Republicans point out that even though the governor has projected a $19 million surplus in the General Fund over the biennium this does not take into account expenses which may arise over the next two years. For example, if state employees bargain for a 7% raise this year, the state will need $10.5 million per year to cover the cost, or $12 million over the two year period in question. This alone would put the budget in the red by $2 million, but even this underestimates the problem. State employees may ask for another 7% increase in 1983 (in effect a 14% raise over their current pay levels), which would result in a total deficit of at least $12.5 million.

When the DOT budget is taken into account the picture becomes even more gloomy. Even though the governor has insisted that the deficit in the DOT budget would amount to $26 million, this figure could be $10 million higher if fees imposed through emergency legislation last year are not extended. Republicans point out that these fees were imposed only as a stop-gap measure and should not be extended beyond their scheduled expiration date, because no effort has been made on the part of the governor to address the issue of the DOT budget in more than a piecemeal fashion.

Professional Education Funding. Gov. Brennan has recommended to the 110th Legislature the elimination of the Maine Contract Program, a state medical grant program which reserves slots for Maine students in medical, dental, optometric and veterinarian schools outside the state.

There are presently 200 students enrolled in the program, 45 of whom will graduate in June of this year. There is no provision in the governor's budget for the state to continue its agreement to fund the 155 remaining students after 1981. Failure to provide for this allowance would force enrolled students to assume the additional costs, if they are able.

Elimination of the program would save $3.4 million for the two year period. The cost to complete our agreement with the students left in the program would be $2.3 million for the biennium. In order to maintain the same level of access as the last two years, $5 million would be necessary.

The program guarantees that there will be positions available for qualified Maine students who wish to continue their education. Current law requires these students to either return to Maine to practice "primary care" medicine for four years or repay the money over a 10-year period at 6% interest.

The state pays an average of $3,300 each year for these slots at different schools, ranging from $4,500 at an optometric school to $11,000 at a veterinarian school. In addition, the students themselves must contribute anywhere from $4,500 to $12,350 each year for their share of tuition.

STRETCH-KNIT SEWING STARTING FEB. 23
Stretch-knit sewing techniques will be taught in an adult education course offered by Kay Chadbourne of Bethel as part of the S. A. D. #44 Adult and Community Education program. Participants in the 10 week course, scheduled for Monday evenings at Telstar, starting Feb. 23, will construct garments using knit fabrics appropriate for active sportswear, such as bathing suits, T-shirts, exercise suits, and children's clothing. Students may bring their own sewing machines or plan to use those at Telstar. To enroll, call the S. A. D. #44 Adult and Community Education office, 824-2136 on Monday, Feb. 23. The office is not open during the Feb. 16 vacation week.

Mrs. John Mills, Corres.

Approximately 18 families attended the fellowship supper Saturday, Feb. 14, at the church. Following the supper, a hymn sing was enjoyed. The theme was Love. Each family brought a home made Valentine and they were sent to friends of the church who were unable to attend. Lisa Jordan and Debbie Farrington entertained the children while the adults discussed forming a church fellowship group. There will be another supper on March 14.

The Cub Scouts will hold their pack meeting on Thursday, Feb. 26. There will be a Blue and Gold Banquet at 6 p. m. at the Legion Hall for Cubs, Webelos and their families. Each family is requested to furnish a casserole and salad and their own plates and silverware. Punch, coffee, rolls and a Scout birthday cake will be furnished. The Cubs plan to have a puppet show with games to follow. The theme of the month is Great Events of Scouting.

The Bookmobile will be in town on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 24. Residents of the community offer their sincere sympathy to the families of Norwood Ford and Richard Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeNormandie returned home to Norwood, Mass., on Sunday. Miss Melanie Swan was named to the Dean's List for the first semester at the University of Maine, Farmington.

Leslie Mason, Portland, spent Saturday with his aunt, Dora Ford, and attended the funeral of his uncle.

Tom Linsbeck of Florida called on several friends last week in Greenwood Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ring and Donna were Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cole.

There will be a vacancy on the S. A. D. #44 Board of Directors, to be filled by a Greenwood resident. It is suggested that anyone interested in this position should make their desire known prior to Town Meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeNormandie called Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cole. Persons who patronize the Bookmobile are urged to write a letter to Governor Brennan protesting the planned discontinuance of this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Swan, Paris Hill, and Mrs. Verna Swan, Bryant Pond, were Monday guests of Mrs. Lillian Lapham. They enjoyed dinner together at Jordan's Restaurant.

U. OF M. PULP & PAPER FOUNDATION AWARDS $93,000 IN SCHOLARSHIPS

A total of 143 students studying engineering and forestry at the University of Maine at Orono have received undergraduate scholarships amounting to $93,000 for the spring semester by the University of Maine Pulp and Paper Foundation. The Foundation has funded the scholarship program at UMO for 31 years and in that period has supplied aid to more than 1,200 students. Many of the earlier recipients have gone on to become corporate executives or mill managers in the paper industry.

A CONTRIBUTION

In view of all that is taking place at this time in this community, I would like to submit this article to this paper. There is quite a message here, not only in the printed word, but between the lines! As a mother and, now a grandmother, and having been through the same trials that many are living in today, I ask every mother, and yes, grandmother to read this and think hard about it!

To My Grown-Up Son (or Daughter)

My hands were busy through the day. I didn't have much time to play. The little games you asked me to, I didn't have much time for YOU. I'd wash your clothes, I'd sew and cook. But when you'd bring your picture book. And ask me please to share your fun. I'd say, "A little later, son." I'd tuck you in all safe at night. And hear your prayers, turn out the light. Then tuck you softly to the door. I WISH I'D STAYED A MINUTE MORE!

For life is short, the years rush past. A little boy grows up so fast. No longer is he at your side. His precious secrets to confide. The picture books are put away. There aren't any games to play. No goodnight kiss, no prayers to hear. That all belongs to yesterday. My hands once busy now lie still. The days are long and hard to fill. I WISH I MIGHT GO BACK AND DO.

THE LITTLE THINGS YOU ASKED ME TO!

The Good Word from the Bible

... a weekly inspirational message for today's life-styles...

For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool; but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.
Isaiah 50: 8

For those who know righteousness, there is no fear. The way of God is eternal. But, as Isaiah warns, the pleasures of the world are as temporal as the planet, as limited as a lifespan.

Many of us presume too much upon the goodness of God. It's strongly put but, in a manner of speaking, we put God in "His Place" while we pursue the joys of life, then seek Him out when we are in trouble or in need.

Consider for a moment that each of us were privileged to know exactly which day is to be our last upon earth. Consider, then, the things we would do — or cease to do — in way of preparation.

The areas where improvement are needed become so quickly obvious.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
The following letter was sent to Representative Donald Twitchell (District 66), and State Senator Roland Sutton (District 5):

Jan. 29, 1981—Greenwood, Me.
We wish to convey our thoughts on the impending demise of the Harrison Bookmobile, in particular, and any others that are in the proposed elimination of this service.

This service to the people who live in rural areas has been one of the immense helps to the many retired people, school children, and the many rural working people who cannot get to the larger cities to use their library services. In the coming future of higher gasoline prices and the need to conserve energy, is it worthwhile to eliminate the Bookmobiles, and then have the users at these facilities travel the 40 to 60 miles to get to a library and use this additional fuel???

The Bookmobile has served the children at the many rural areas where money and books are not plentiful and has helped them learn to read and enjoy the fruits of good books. I think you must agree that reading is one of the many ways to further one's knowledge.

To many of our retired citizens, the Bookmobile has provided many pleasant hours, and has helped them to keep their minds active. Without this service, many of these older persons will have little to help occupy their minds and keep them alert.

As we all are aware that the average person's income in the State of Maine is among the lower portion of our country, it seems to be a shame that many working persons, retired people, housewives, children, etc., will lose these facilities, and will not have the opportunity to read good books, once this service is stopped.

You may say that we can receive books through the mail from libraries, but many people on limited incomes, simply may not be able to afford the extra postage that this will entail.

It seems to be redundant that the Bookmobiles that serve so many people be eliminated, yet pay raises in excess of 50% are being contemplated for various officials in our State Government.

We agree that we all need to cut expenses and bring budgets in line, but shouldn't this be done fairly? Your comments and thoughts on this subject will be appreciated, and we will thank you in advance for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely yours,
Arthur & Evelyn Wiesner

2/11/81

To the Editor:

I would like to thank my constituents for their recent letters and for their concern regarding the elimination of the bookmobile program.

The elimination of the bookmobiles will not leave the citizens of Maine, like yourself, without an alternate delivery system. The present plan is to implement a Books-By-Mail service to replace the bookmobiles. A Books-By-Mail service will be much more convenient for the people of Maine who do not have direct access to a public library. Books are mailed directly to the patron's home as often as the borrower wishes and no limit is placed on the number of books which a patron may borrow. There is no interruption in this service due to storms, illness or breakdowns of a bookmobile truck.

It is the aim of the state to reach as many of the unserved population of the state in the most cost effective manner as possible; they can meet this objective. I can assure you that I will be doing everything possible to secure adequate funding of the Books-By-Mail alternative.

Again, thank you for sharing your concerns with me.

Sincerely,
R. Donald Twitchell
State Representative
District 66

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

Dear Mom and Dad:

Thanks for your letter — you say you're born again, saved—what's going on — are you getting churchier too? On the phone you're different and even sound like Jane and Bob.

Well, our New Year Party was a flop because Bill is not willing to have that kind of fun anymore. Coming home from logging—says he was almost hit by a heavy branch that snapped past his face—couldn't explain it—but it seemed his head was turned aside by what was a soft furry something. Said it happened not long ago to a friend named Phil. He remembers Bob's remark about angels.

Yes—we did as you requested and told Bob and Jane about your "experience" and they just glowed and said "praise the Lord." I'll say one thing, this church stuff is getting pretty heavy for me—it's not my style, bothers me. I'll still do things my way—don't feel I need a God that I can't see. Bill said he didn't know about that—he didn't see the furry angel or whatever that saved him from being hurt.

Rebecca feels fine now after the flu—Jane came and wanted to pray for her—I told her I'd rather put my trust in doctors—anyway she is at nursery school and there's her dog at the window, he knows when Rebecca is about to come home and the routine: — cookies and hot chocolate with Teddy Bear and Bozo the Beagle—Thank all sit and Rebecca says—Thank you God for this food, Amen. Bill likes it, but as for me, well.

We're planning a bigger garden—from the water shortages in nearby states we better hope for rain—Bill says, pray for rain—someday—I'll! Watching the chickadees feeding on the suet—lovely birds, they scrap just like people. Told Jane about it and she says—ever since Adam and Eve—but there will be a day when no more wars nor sickness, like the flu. I asked her will Christians pray? She said she didn't think so because they will be in God's presence. Told me to read the last chapter in the Bible. I remember part of it. "No more curse, guess that's sickness and trouble — no more night, neither sun, for the Lord God giveth forth light and they shall reign forever and ever."

Love, Doris, Bill, Rebecca and Bozo.

dents and Telstar students riding together on many bus routes.

The closing of Locke Mills Elementary School will result in energy savings and in the savings of custodial and hot lunch wages. While the two elementary positions at Locke Mills will be eliminated, a large influx of students at Telstar Middle School requires the addition of a staff member, and a large number of special education cases requires the addition of a teacher of the emotionally handicapped. Thus, there will be no reduction in the number of teaching positions, rather, a reassignment reflecting the district's pupil population shift and special education needs. The closing of Locke Mills will result in a net savings of approximately $7,500 per year.

The consolidation of bus routes will result in a savings of 80,000 miles and 3,100 man hours per year, a savings that is conservatively estimated at $40,000. The consolidation will also save the district increasing sums of money in the long run, for the cost of fuel will continue to spiral, and the reduction of 80,000 miles of travel on our bus fleet will result in lower maintenance costs in transportation. In the area of student discipline, many districts in Maine have consolidated routes, and their experience has been uniformly positive.

As a result of the energy savings related to these two changes, and the elimination of all but the most essential purchases, the district was able to reduce its non-personnel costs — nearly 40% of the budget — by $9,252.

The decrease in property taxes, is due primarily to a surplus from the current budget. Last year's budget incorporated energy costs of $1.75 for gasoline, $1.40 for #2 heating oil, and $1.00 for #6 heating oil. When the budget was developed, energy costs were spiraling and these cost estimates seemed accurate. From the spring of 1980 until the recent decontrol of oil prices, however, the energy prices levelled off, and consequently, the district experienced considerable surpluses in its energy accounts. Nearly $80,000 in surplus from the current budget has been carried forth toward next year's budget as revenues. This, combined with slightly over $40,000 carried over from FY '80, added $120,000 in revenue to the FY '82 budget. This is money that will not have to be raised through property tax. Therefore, despite the unfavorable impact of the subsidy index and mill rate outlined in the last Superintendent's Newsletter, there will be a decrease in property tax of over $17,000.

Impact on Towns of S. A. D. #44:

The table below outlines the impact of the current recommended budget on the towns of S. A. D. #44. The reason for the difference in impact is the difference in valuation increases in the various towns of S. A. D. #44 (A—FY '82 total, town share; B—FY '81 total, town share; C — Percentage of change):

(A) (B) (C)

Andover $185,919 $197,671 —5.95

Bethel 433,217 420,655 +2.98

Greenwood 196,282 199,042 —1.39

Newry 94,653 96,618 —2.03

Woodstock 219,952 233,925 —5.97

1,130,023 1,147,911 —7.56

Energy account surpluses, the closing of an elementary school, the consolidation of transportation routes, and across-the-board austerity have resulted in a short run savings to the taxpayers in S. A. D. #44. At this time next year, a large surplus will be less likely, school closings and further consolidation of transportation will be an impossibility, and austerity will be increasingly difficult. In the coming year, the Board, administrators, and personnel of S. A. D. #44 will continue to work together to identify methods of streamlining operations, saving energy, and saving materials and supplies so that we can continue to offer a sound educational program for a reasonable cost. In the future, however, the cost to the taxpayers will undoubtedly increase.

Northwest Bethel

—Clarice Gibson, Correspondent—

A beautiful Monday to begin vacation week. Last Wednesday we had rains all day and most of the night. School was called off and before Thursday morning the temperature dropped so that it started freezing. The river is open by the house and Wednesday came over the interval but has now gone down considerably. When the temperatures went down late Wednesday or early Thursday the water froze around the trees and as the water went down the ice broke from the trees; but a lot of trees are still wearing their rings of ice. As the water went down the ice broke; each time I went out, because of the crackling of the ice I would go to the bank and look down. The sound was almost like when one walks into an icy puddle and the ice breaks. The icy fields are giving the young and the old alike, beautiful skating rinks.

Feb. 7, Elaine, Misty and Shilo Hutchins visited Rhonda Parker in South Portland and afterwards picked up Jeff Hutchins at the Jetport.

We wish to extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gibbs on the death of Linda's father, Lawrence Coulter, of Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine went to visit his sister and husband, Carlton and Carrie Holt, Berlin, N. H., Saturday evening.

Callers at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson's this last week were Butch Crockett, Wednesday morning; Mr. and Mrs. Davis Kimball and girls, Saturday evening; and Marion and Cecil Abbott of Andover, Sunday.

Sam McCoy came home from Stephens Memorial Hospital, Saturday.

Saturday, Mrs. Debbie Seames and Mrs. Terri Blake hosted a baby shower for Judy Coolidge at the home of Judy's aunt, Mrs. Betty Blake in Bethel. The living room was decorated with pink and blue streamers and the gifts were put into a white baby basket with locking legs. Alberta Angevine brought Judy, Sarah and Jessica Coolidge and it was a surprise until Judy saw the cars in the door yard. Also attending were Phil Glines, Clarice Gibson, Ruth Butters, Peggy Coolidge, Eva Coolidge and children, June Enman, Debbie Seames, Dawn and Rusty, Kathy Mason and children, Ruth Mason, Verlie Mason and son, Terri Blake and Beth, Daisy Coolidge and daughter and, of course, Betty Blake. After opening the gifts games were played and refreshments were served. The appropriately decorated cake was made by Debbie Seames.

Judy Coolidge and daughters, had two of Judy's college classmates drop in Monday. They were Lorrie Grindall of Westbrook and Mary Lunney of Madawaska.

Tuesday after Bible Study, Elaine Packard, invited Joanne Royer and myself for lunch. While eating, Elaine's sister, Joan Grover of Stoneham, stopped in.

Kelly Savage stayed Friday night with her friend, Kristy Angevine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine. The two girls both went to the Winter Carnival Prom.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carson and Teri of South Portland visited Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine and family Sunday.

Our son, Ira, drove up from Cherry Point, N. C., last week and got here about midnight on Thursday. He had stopped in Hampton Falls, N. H., and had supper with his aunt, Bobby Pevear, and husband, Eddie; also grandmother, Thirza Gibson. Friday afternoon I took Frankie and Ira down to my folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen's in Norway.

George Gibson picked up his two brothers and they went to North Andover, Mass., to visit their brother, Jim, and wife, Sue. Saturday the boys went into Boston to visit the Museum of Science and Sunday they went to Hampton Falls to visit Bobby, Eddie, and Grandma. Sue did not go with them as she was not feeling well.

According to veteran/state house observers, "The pot is boiling". The "pot" in this case is the Governor's Highway Budget which has only just been printed and has not received serious consideration. The "boiling" is being provided by two related matters: the action by the Appropriations Committee to deny General Fund monies to the Highway Fund and the reaction of the Transportation Committee to the Governor's bill to make permanent the "temporary" fee hikes enacted last year.

The unprecedented action by the Appropriations Committee makes a shambles of the Governor's Highway proposal. The unanswered question around the state house is: what possessed the Governor to construct such a proposal in the first place? For a politician of the Governor's experience to offer such an unworkable bill is to convince one that he has deliberately set up the Legislature. The Governor knew that the Democrat controlled Appropriations Committee would not go along with the pie-in-the-sky gifts of over 20 millions of dollars from the General Fund. It will be interesting to observe the reaction of the Transportation Committee. Will the Committee reject the bill as a transparent insult to its intelligence or will it swallow the bait and spend months compounding the problem until, under the lash of adjournment, more patchwork and piecemeal adjustments are the only possibility.

Another bill that could give a clue to how assertive the Legislature is going to be is the one extending the "temporary" fees of last year. If the Legislature goes along with making these raises permanent at this time, no workable solution to the Highway Fund problem will be forthcoming this session. A possible compromise would extend the fees until July 1. This, it is argued, will give the Committee time to work out the problems in the Governor's bill.

Make no mistake: the maintenance of the club members wishing to go, should meet at the Stoneham Fire Station at 6 o'clock sharp, Saturday morning. The president would like to have anyone planning to go to please let him know by Friday Feb. 27 at the latest.

A donation has been made to the Pine Tree Lodge for Crippled Children, a very worthy cause. An auction followed the meeting with Jo Sanderson as auctioneer. It was a fun time and over $81 was realized. The auction helpers were Julie Bickford and Marg Rugg. Cindy Fox served a lovely lunch following the auction. — Club Reporter, Jo Sanderson.

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.
When I wrote last the ground was bare. Today it is again the same but sometime between a dusk and dawn a mystic blanket of white fell putting magic on every bare, plain twig. Each bush was changed from dull, dead brown to glistening, gleaming white. All through the air there seemed to be a mist of diamond dust. Then came the beautiful sunshine and the sky was sapphire. As I walked in the winter white, the flannel-posted fences raised their heads along the road sides. The ermine shrubs wore crystal flower beds. But the fairy land soon disappeared so the trees and hills are again bare and brown. From acres of diamonds there came a change to savage winds from the south east, driving sheets of rain, temperatures rising and taking the snow. It howled all through the day. A mass of drops of water made their long fall to earth from the low clouds while the violent wind roared through, slanting the rain to the front of our house. It crept beneath the porch door and made puddles on the floor. The hiss, of the wind driven rain sounded eerie and desolate.

With the downward - rushing sheets of water the pond became a chopped surface.

The next day dawned cold and the pond was a mess of cakes of ice, and washings from Sanborn River. As I walked, I listened to the unsettling and crackling of the ice where the water had risen and fallen leaving bushes like umbrella handles, ice attached to them slanting downward. Dainty crystals and icicles were fastened to grasses and bushes everywhere. One was so much like a chandelier in a perfect circle. Another even more beautiful contained stalagmites formed into a rectangular shape. Both were lighted in rainbow colors.

I again went to the farm fields. I saw my two partridges, as I did last week. I climbed the hill and looked to the mountains against a sky of universal blue in which the moon could be seen on high.

The moon and two crows were about the only changes from my last climb. The crows were caught in an updraft and they sailed like a hawk. Over the woods they circled then over the fields again. This time the updraft was so strong that their wings bowed and the tips quivered. Up, now, at great speed in another direction and sweep of wind then beyond the trees out of sight.

I breathed deeply of the freshness, tilted my head back to take the last look of the blueness spanning the sky, then I journeyed home.

BETHEL GOSPEL CENTER TO PRESENT "HAPPINESS IS"
ON SUNDAY, FEB. 22

As most parents are well aware, entertainment for children of a moral and spiritual nature can be a hard thing to come by. Entertainment of this kind for the entire family is even more rare. But Heartland Productions of Des Moines, Iowa, has managed to capture the attention of both children and adults with its delightful new film, "Happiness Is . . ."

Heartland's president, Russell Doughten, Jr., also producer/director of "Happiness Is . . .", had as his goal "to present the Gospel in a way that would penetrate the hearts of children as well as minister to people of all ages." With humor and suspense as captivating elements, the film has done just that. It provides a view of the lives of three boys who form a secret club and the girl who, not admitted to the club, is determined to expose it and the boys. The film develops into a series of events as exciting as any of Tom Sawyer's adventures.

In its premiere in Des Moines, "Happiness Is . . ." was seen by over 7600 people in three days of showings. The size of the audience and their enthusiastic response made it one of the most successful events of its kind in that city. This type of response is anticipated here in Bethel, when "Happiness Is . . ." is shown at the Bethel Gospel Center of C. & M. A. on Sunday, Feb. 22 at 6 p. m.

TRIBUTES

I first knew David Myers as a six year old who played hockey from school one day and, knocking on my door, announced he'd come for a visit.

Years later, David came back to Bethel with a wife and family. He made his place in the community—the fire department—support of the Telstar athletics—his work. David's easy way, his big smile and sense of humor will be missed by many people.

Dave, your character was like a tree and your reputation its shadow. The shadow is what some will remember; the tree was there to your friends.
We'll miss you, Dave.

WATER DISTRICT HEARING

summer. The issue between the persons speaking for the public and the trustees seems to be the amount of money which could be potentially saved this year by installing smaller diameter pipe. The public view as expressed at the meeting was that any possible savings in 1981 costs would benefit already financially pinched households. The District's view is that only $800 could be saved by installing a smaller diameter pipe this year. Since the project will be paid off by a 40 year loan, the potential savings is only 10 cents per customer per year. On the other hand, the District believes that the uncertainties in the growth of the West Bethel area and developments in the last 20 years justify preparing for upgrading the system anytime construction is undertaken. Indications of future growth exceed the indications for no growth in that particular section of the town. To return in a few years and replace pipe that has an anticipated life of 100 years is viewed as mismanagement and could cost the District upwards of $20,000 instead of the estimated $8,000 for laying eight inch pipe in 1981.

A Bethel village resident questioned how the District planned for long term improvements. Superintendent Enright circulated the District's plan which calls for $178,000.

in long term improvements to various critically aged sections of the water system. It was explained that each element of the plan called for installing new equipment that should under normal circumstances last for nearly 100 years. The first steps in implementing this plan will be taken this summer in West Bethel and along Tyler Street. The costs of these planned improvements for 1981 are already included in the rate structure which the District proposes to implement on April 1.

Having different parties meet at the hearing apparently led to resolving one question. It concerned additional charges for metered water used to fill fire engines while housed in the fire station. A previous attempt by the District and the fire chief to cancel this charge had not been approved by the PUC. However, with Ken Knott representing the PUC at the meeting raising the problem again seemed to bring general agreement by all concerned that water loaded on fire trucks while on stand-by would be included in the general fire protection charge and not incur additional charges. Although formal PUC approval on this matter must be obtained, the hearing seemed to ease getting this approval.

By attending the hearing and representing the PUC, Mr. Knott proved helpful in answering a number of questions about apportioning rates to the town for fire protection and to customers for private use as well as in explaining PUC regulations that guide the operation of water utilities including the overall design and size of water distribution systems needed for given situations. He also pointed out that in early 1979 had the Bethel Water District not initiated an improvement program, the PUC would have been required to direct changes and a reorganization of the District.
